Uranium Oxide Included in Wierman Collection of Ores

VISIT: With all the talk about uranium possibilities in Hardin county, I might say casually that I had a couple of pieces of uranium oxide ore in my hands yesterday. And I don't feel a bit radioactive. But, alas and alack, these pieces, about the size of chocolate peanut clusters, came from Old Mexico and not from Hick's Dome. I saw them and felt them down at the home of O. C. Wierman, 301 East McIlraith street.

Mr. Wierman is a retired railroad worker who has made the collection of minerals and books about mineralogy his hobby. He and Mrs. Wierman last Saturday returned from a visit of two months with their son, Raymond, a plastering contractor at Tucson, Arizona.

Son Raymond has two claims, one in Arizona and one in Old Mexico. Mr. Wierman told me, and although he's looking for about anything that is important, he is working chiefly on sheelite, a tungsten ore.

Besides the uranium oxide, Mr. Wierman brought back with him a gold nugget, turquoise and other ores.

Mr. Wierman has been collecting minerals for more than 40 years—since 1913, in fact. He never studied geology in school but took up the subject as a hobby and by concentrating on his collection and reading his collection of books has become quite informed on the subject.

Looked at his collection, kept in a glass-topped case, and there are countless specimens, numbered. He has them catalogued and an experienced fellow can find just what they are by looking at the number, then looking at his cataloging.

When the flood came in 1937, the numbers were washed off, he said, and he spent a long time in rechecking the pieces and getting them numbered properly again.

Some of the pieces he has found, some have been given to him and many he has bought. Some are from China, some from Italy, and some from other countries. He also had a fine collection of jade that came from the Southwest.

Mr. Wierman last Saturday ordered himself a Geiger Counter and when it arrives he's going into Hardin county with some friends up here who have property there. They're going to look over the situation for themselves.

Fulbright Group Opens Stock Market Hearing

Exchange President Says Current Boom is 'Healthy'

By United Press
Sen. J. William Fulbright said today the government may have to supervise the New York Stock Exchange more closely than it is doing.

The Arkansas Democrat ventured that remark at the opening session of hearings which he is directing on the current stock market boom. He is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

Fulbright hastened to say he sees "nothing wrong or bad" with what he called a selling campaign to induce more persons to buy stocks. But he said it may impose new regulatory obligations on the Securities and Exchange Commission.

G. Keith Funston, president of the exchange, didn't agree that the exchange is engaged in a selling campaign.

Rather, he said, "we are trying to give people the facts so that they can make up their own minds whether they want to own stocks."

Fulbright billed the investigation, first of its kind since the depression, as a "friendly" inquiry. He said nobody would be accused of anything.

Funston told the committee the stock boom is a healthy one. He said the 1929 crash isn't likely to be repeated.

Other news: Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey told Congress the United States should not encourage "uneconomic, high-cost production" of materials such as lead, zinc, coal, and oil. He said tariffs should be high enough to protect the basic U. S. mineral industry against foreign raiding.

But he said Korean War demands stimulated "a lot of production that will never be economic at all."

HARLAN: The Senate Judiciary Committee again put off action on the nomination of John Marshall Harlan to the Supreme Court. Several members said they wanted more time to study the hearing record. The committee agreed to vote on the issue next Wednesday.

WALSH: Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland agreed with President Eisenhower's news conference remark Wednesday that the United States will not help the Chinese Nationalists wage aggressive war. Knowland said he never suggested aggressive war. The U. S. position in the Far East, he said, is strictly defensive.

AID: Henry Ford II urged congressional support of the United Nations program of technical assistance to underdeveloped nations.

He said the program "probably means more to the underdeveloped people than any other single effort of international cooperation in history."

TAXES: Senate leaders of both parties said indications are the Senate will reject the House-approved $20-per-person income tax cut by a margin of from five to 20 votes. They emphasized, however, the outlook could change if a new tax-cut formula is devised.

MCCARTHY: Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens "deliberately deceived Congress and the American people" by withholding information about the case of former Maj. Irving Peress. Peress was an Army dentist who received an honorable discharge over McCarthy's objections after refusing to tell McCarthy whether he was a Communist.

Army Device Can

Detect Enemy Germ Warfare Attack

WASHINGTON — The Army has developed a device which can instantly detect an enemy germ warfare attack.

The instrument, known as an aerosoloscope, measures and counts air-borne germs, dust, moisture and radioactive particles. It can detect a sudden increase in the volume of germs in the air just as a Geiger counter reveals a rise in radioactivity.

Recover from Fall from 10th Story Apartment

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (U.P.) — Two-year-old Walter Nadella is expected to survive a 100-foot fall from his 10th-story apartment, doctors said today.

The child plunged out of the window while playing with his year-old sister, Debbie, Wednesday. He landed on a grass plot made soggy by recent rains.

Rushed to a medical center, Walter underwent an emergency operation for internal injuries. He also suffered a concussion and a fractured rib.

Nehru's Party Routs Communists In India Elections

NEW DELHI, India (U.P.) — A wholesale rout of the Communist Party in elections in its stronghold of Andhra State today stunned both the Reds and victorious Congress Party.

"It can't be true," top Communists wailed as results of the state's first election poured in. Leaders of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's Congress Party were jubilant over success such as they had never anticipated even in their most hopeful moments.

Latest returns showed the Congress Party won 62 of the 85 seats in the state legislature counted so far. The Communists got five seats, the Praja Socialists five and Independents 13.

In the last legislature the Congress Party had 46 seats and the Communists 45. The Reds toppled the government of the South India State last November and forced the elections in hopes of increasing their strength.

The Reds were beaten in districts that were regarded safe for them. Among the defeated candidates were top Communist leaders.

Study Budget Needs of State Welfare Groups

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Budgetary Commission today studied a maze of figures on the needs of two of the state's biggest spending agencies for the next two years.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission and the State Public Welfare Department both presented their proposed 1955-57 budgets at a commission hearing Wednesday.

"It's a little too much to digest in one day," Commission Chairman Everett R. Peters, GOP state senator from St. Joseph, commented.

The IPAC administers the state-federal assistance programs. Public welfare runs the state mental hospitals and other welfare activities.

The IPAC budget for the next two years adds up to $284,868,000 for old age, dependent children, blind, disabled, general assistance aid programs, and burial award payments.

Federal funds would account for $113,652,436 of the expenditures in the two-year period. IPAC appropriations for the 1955-55 period totaled $287,165,000, of which $118,212,000 were from federal funds. The state's share for the next two years would increase $2,262,564 with the federal funds $4,559,564 less.

Fiscal plans of the welfare department called for operating expenditures of $141,084,700 in 1955-57 period. Also included was $20 million for improvements budget for $106,321,102.

Appropriations for the department's operations in 1953 for the 1953-55 period totaled more than 130 million dollars.

Musical Comedy by Russell Ellis of Ridgway to Be Presented on Broadway

Russell Edwin Ellis, who has been composing music since childhood, has received his first big break in show business. His musical comedy, "Hey Rube," will be presented this June in Broadway and is scheduled for Hollywood next fall.

Ellis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ellis of Ridgway, attended grade and high school in Ridgway and is a graduate of Ridgway high school with the class of 1946.

He is a former voice and piano student of Mrs. Pearl Sherman and had a recital in high school with his own compositions. He attended Northwestern university at Evanston, where he studied music composition, as his life's ambition was to be a composer.

For the past two years Ellis has been working on a musical comedy and during this time he has been an entertainer at various supper clubs at S. S. Tahiti, Los Toros and Sardas in St. Louis.

He is 24 years of age. He has a sister, Georgia Fay Ellis, a sophomore at the University of Illinois.

The new musical comedy has received considerable favorable notices in New York City newspapers and theatrical publications. The most recent issue of "Summer Theaters," theatrical publication has Ellis' picture as the front-piece and in discussing the show says: "He is destined to be the Cole Porter of the 1950's."

"Show Business" has the following to say about the musical — "Hey Rube," a new musical comedy by Russell Ellis, will be presented on Broadway next fall by Gene Cogan. The musical, a carnival story, is based on the life of George

Issue Writ for Dale to Face Tax Charges

SPRINGFIELD — The government today obtained a writ to take convicted labor racketeer Evan R. Dale out of jail for arraignment here on income tax evasion charges March 21.

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie granted the U. S. attorney's office a writ of habeas corpus so Dale can be brought here from East St. Louis March 21 to enter a plea on charges he evaded $104,656 in taxes.

Dale, described as the former "boss" of 38,000 AFL common laborers in southern Illinois and Kentucky, was convicted in East St. Louis last Dec. 7 of labor racketeering.

A federal jury found him guilty of extorting $7,500 from an Ohio contractor, and trying to extort $1,030,000 from builders of an atomic energy steam plant at Joppla. He is planning an appeal.

The income tax evasion indictment was returned here last Dec. 19. The six-count indictment said Dale reported income of $29,954 for the six years starting in 1948 when he actually made $238,570.

Already sentenced to 15 years in the labor racketeering case, Dale could get as much as five years in jail and a $10,000 fine on each of the six tax counts.

Dale, 38, Carbondale, was president of the Southern Illinois District of the common laborers before his racketeering conviction. He had jurisdiction over 32 local unions.

Robert T. Oxtoby, assistant U. S. attorney, said he will ask Briggie to set "tentative" trial date when Dale appears March 21. Dale has not been sent to federal prison on his prior conviction pending disposition of his appeal, Oxtoby said.

In the Ohio Valley, careful preparations appeared to be preventing the threat of any major damage. The Ohio hit the 52-foot flood stage at Cincinnati Wednesday and was expected to rise two feet more by noon Friday.

In Indiana, the Ohio was expected to rise four feet above flood stage by Saturday at New Albany. Jeffersonville and Ellettsburg, but flood walls protected all three cities.

Carrier Mills Voters To Elect Three Trustees To Village Board April 19

Carrier Mills voters will go to the polls Tuesday, April 19, to elect three trustees of the Village Board, but apparently it will be a quiet election as only three men have filed for the positions. All are candidates for re-election.

Harry Tanner, village clerk, has announced that Freeman D. Parkey, Hughie Gilchrist and Parkey Miller filed petitions of candidacy with him and that the last date for filing was Monday, Feb. 28.

Mr. Tanner also stated that the ballot would not have a place for write in votes as the law does not provide for write in voting in a village election when political parties are not involved.

The Carrier Mills village board consists of six trustees and a mayor, but only three trustees are up for election this year.

It's a Pleasure to Present . . .

THE NORTH RESERVOIR FULL.

After running pictures showing the absence of water in the city water system, The Daily Register today is proud to show a picture of a full reservoir. It's the north reservoir at Middle Fork creek, pumped full because of recent rains. In fact, yesterday the water department started letting water into the practically dry south reservoir, pictured at the right and looking more like a field than anything else.

Ohio River Floods Streets In Cincinnati

CHICAGO — The Chicago Weather Bureau today issued a warning of possible tornadoes in an area 60 miles north and 40 miles south of a line running from a point 40 miles north of Springfield, Mo., to Vandalia, Ill.

By United Press

Flood waters rolled through the Ohio River Valley today and covered some Cincinnati streets with as much as 10 inches of water.

The swollen river was still rising in Ohio, closing parts of 15 highways in southern and southeastern counties, and flood waters from the White and Wabash rivers closed eight secondary roads in Indiana.

Farther back up the valley, the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers were falling at Pittsburgh, Pa. after cresting at 22.1 feet, well below the 25-foot flood stage. However, Monongahela flood waters

the dispersal of industry and to discover how the State of Illinois can help, financially and otherwise, in such dispersal efforts."

Sen. Glen Jones Wins Approval of Resolution for Dispersal of Industry

State Senator Glen O. Jones, Raleigh, this week won Senate approval of his resolution calling for Gov. Stratton to take action for dispersal of Illinois industry from congested areas.

Sen. Jones introduced the measure because, he stated, of the hazards involved where industry is concentrated.

The resolution calls upon the governor to "call a conference of industrial leaders, city planners, officials of the Civil Defense administration and other interested state officials and citizens to make plans for the dispersal of industry and to discover how the State of Illinois can help, financially and otherwise, in such dispersal efforts."

It further calls for copies of the preamble and resolution to be forwarded to the United States senators and congressmen from Illinois "to inform them of our deep concern with respect to such matters and to urge them respectfully to initiate similar steps at the national level."

Jones' resolution points out that the development of the thermonuclear weapon has made all former concepts of warfare obsolete "and has made modern war so extremely destructive that the largest cities may be effectively and permanently destroyed by one explosion."

It points out that industrial areas now existing in Illinois are so concentrated "that virtually every principal industry in Illinois could well be destroyed or seriously crippled by bombs dropped by a comparatively few enemy aircraft on the first day of a war."

"Little or no effective action has been taken to disperse the industrial facilities in Illinois so as to preserve an undamaged or repairable industrial capacity in the state in the event of an atomic attack," it continues, adding that the degree of dispersal required by the threat of eventual hydrogen bomb attack makes only halfhearted attempt at dispersal futile.

"The lives of millions of our people may be saved by a suitable plan of dispersal of industry which would minimize the destructive effects of any attack by nuclear or radiological weapons," it concludes.

New DELHI, India (U.P.) — British said today his search for a Formosa strait cease-fire would be helped greatly if the two sides would give some indication of their willingness to renounce the use of force.

Eden made the statement to newsmen during his visit to New Delhi to discuss the tense Far East situation with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and to try to stretch the uneasy Formosa quiet into a dependable cease-fire.

Eden said he thought that the gaps between the United States and British position and the Indian position on Formosa "can be bridged."

Pumping operations at the city reservoir, started Saturday afternoon, ended at 9:30 p. m. last night.

The north reservoir was filled and part of the water is flowing into the south reservoir.

New Eruptions by Volcano Endanger Village of Kapoho

HILLO, Hawaii (U.P.) — Flaming lava surged to within one mile of the village of Kapoho today when the east rift of famed Kilauea Volcano on the island of Hawaii erupted with new fury after a 24-hour rest.

The 335 residents of Kapoho were evacuated to safe areas again on Wednesday when the volcano exploded in a far more dangerous eruption than Monday. It was the first time the volcano had been active in 115 years.

A gaping fissure one mile long and as much as 500 feet wide spouted lava 30 to 50 feet in the air along the entire length, and poured forth red hot matter at the rate of 350 feet an hour directly toward Kapoho and the ocean.

A new outburst late Wednesday night blasted apart an old cinder cone and stretched the fissure by another 300 yards. It threatened to pour even more lava into the flow.

Another smaller finger of fiery lava pouring out from the side of the fissure missed two farmhouses by 30 feet and overran a sugar cane field.

Gov. Samuel Wilmer King prepared to declare a limited state of emergency for the volcano area today.

Police and Civil Defense officials expressed fear that the lava would wipe out Kapoho. Volcanologists warned that the entire area was "uneasy" and in danger of erupting.

Tells Peiping Regime to Cease Threats

Secretary Leaves For U. S. After Talks With Chiang

TAIPEI, Formosa (U.P.) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the Chinese Communists today not to assume that they or their mainland bases were safe from attack if the Reds attack the Nationalist-held off-shore islands of Matsu and Quemoy.

Dulles issued the warning at the end of a momentous two-hour conference with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek which was attended by some of the United States' top naval leaders. He took off for Washington almost at once, leaving behind his military experts to build up the Nationalist war strength.

Shortly before the meeting with Chiang, Dulles signed the final ratification papers putting the American-Chinese defense treaty into formal operation. It is under that treaty the Nationalist air force, army and navy will be built up.

Says U. S. Hopes for Peace

Dulles told the Peiping regime to "practice what they preach" about peace and cease their threats against Formosa. He stressed the United States hoped Peiping would not touch off a war. He added that the United States would welcome efforts by the United Nations and peace-loving nations to find a solution to the Formosa crisis.

But he made it clear the United States would "not enter into any negotiations dealing with the territories, or rights of the Republic of China, except in cooperation with the Republic of China," a statement that ruled out Russia's suggestion for a Geneva-type "peace conference" without Chiang.

Nationalist sources said Chiang told a secret "war session" of the Kuomintang ruling government party today their task is to "recover the mainland and rebuild the country."

It is the ardent hope of the United States that the Chinese Communists will not insist on war as an instrument of its policy," he said.

"The United States and the Republic of China have no alternative but to stand firm."

He made the statement within hours after he and the Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh signed the ratification papers putting the U. S.-Nationalist China defense treaty formally into effect.

Dulles said President Eisenhower himself would make the decision what to do if the Communists attack the Nationalists' two main off-shore islands.

Authoritative sources said Dulles did not ask Chiang to abandon Matsu and Quemoy islands as the Nationalists had feared. The sources said Dulles and Chiang discussed the possibility of a cease-fire and that Chiang looked upon it with disfavor.

NEW DELHI, India (U.P.) — British said today his search for a Formosa strait cease-fire would be helped greatly if the two sides would give some indication of their willingness to renounce the use of force.

Eden made the statement to newsmen during his visit to New Delhi to discuss the tense Far East situation with Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and to try to stretch the uneasy Formosa quiet into a dependable cease-fire.

Eden said he thought that the gaps between the United States and British position and the Indian position on Formosa "can be bridged."

GOP Convention Site

Editorial — BY BRUCE BOSSAT
The Republicans never have held
a convention farther west than Kansas City, so it will be refreshingly different to have the 1956
presidential affair in San Francisco.

It had, of course, been broadly
assumed that the GOP would follow the Democrats' example and pick Chicago, largely because the major television networks wanted
the savings that would go with holding both conventions in the same town and the same hall.

No doubt some of the political observers would like to get Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall on the psychiatrist's couch to search for hidden meanings in the surprise choice of San Francisco.
But perhaps there's only one reason
he really doesn't want to talk about.

Chicago is a stronghold of the party's right wing. Recently some of the more vocal members of this group met there for a rally that was as frankly anti-Eisenhower as anything heard since before the President's 1952 nomination.

Though Hall denies it, there is said to be some fear among the Eisenhower high command that a convention they foresee as sure to renominate the President might
suffer from too much right wing
oratory if conducted in Chicago.

California would be different.
There the lingering traditions of former Governor Warren's middle-road government would afford a setting more closely in tune with the Eisenhower regime. It is also the home ballcock of Vice President Nixon, whose allegiance is plain, and the present GOP Senate
minority leader, Senator Knowl-
and, who seems to fit better with
the right wing but who declines to be so aligned. Governor Knight,
of course, is an Eisenhower back-
er.

Naturally, the national committee had other things in mind in choosing San Francisco. It is a way of recognizing California's new eminence in the political scale, for the state is now the second most populous in the land and a factor
of prime significance in nominations and elections.

Furthermore, it makes sense to give many parts of America a firsthand look at the fantastic, fascinating show. San Franciscans
will add a few cubits to their political education. And it will be broadening, too for many delegates
who probably haven't seen much
west of the Mississippi, and know
of the Pacific coast's fabulous
growth only through hearsay and picture.

If the President runs again,
there won't be much political combat. But in San Francisco the convention will have a lot more
glamor than usually accompanies
a sure thing.

Out of the Saddle Again

It seems that each time a French
premier falls, the period between his failure and the taking over of a new leader grows longer.

There apparently are a lot of reasons for this, some of them
constitutional, some reflecting the fact that the area of agreement on basic French policy has narrowed considerably in recent years.

What we are beginning to fear
is that if this trend keeps up the
time will come when the periods
France is without a premier will be longer than the ones when somebody is in the saddle.

The Bear That Went Over the Mountains

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
White House Asks Governors
To Help Defeat $20 Tax Reduction; Rayburn Has Ike Over A Tax Barrel; Ike Once Re-
proached Rayburn At Private Breakfast.

WASHINGTON. — The boys in
the White House are rolling up
their sleeves as never before to defeat the Sam Rayburn $20 tax reduction amendment. Long-distance phones all over the USA were busy last week trying to pressure
certain wavering congressmen.
This week they are working on the senators.

Last week, for instance, assistant
president Sherman Adams phoned
Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana,
an Eisenhower Democrat, and asked him to do some long-distance
lobbying.

Governor Kennon, in turn, phoned
various governors whom he knows personally, asking them to pressure their own congressmen
to vote against Speaker Rayburn
and his $20 tax reduction. Among others, Kennon called Gov. Phil
Donnelly of Missouri, a Democrat,
who did not bolt to Ike, asked him
to work on the Missouri delegation.
His words fell on barren ground.
Governor Donnelly did not exert himself. No votes were changed
among the Missouri representatives in Congress.

SAM'S TRUMP CARDS
Reason for White House consternation over the $20 tax reduction
is because of two trump cards in Sam Rayburn's hand.

Trump No. 1 — He appoints the conference to the joint committee of the House and Senate which will finally iron out the tax bill. They will be stanch Rayburn supporters.
With the Senate likely to defeat the $20 reduction, Sam's conferees
will stick to the bitter end, and the Senate will probably have to yield.

Trump No. 2 — The tax bill, to which Rayburn has tacked his $20
tax reduction, will expire April 30
unless Ike gets some action. And he wants action badly. He needs
to have that bill renewed so badly
that he can't very well veto it, even if the $20 tax reduction is in the bill. For the bill continues wartime excise-profit taxes and corporation taxes.

So if Rayburn's amendment
stays on, Ike is hooked. If he vetoes,
he may not have a tax bill at
all. Also, a veto would put him in an even worse spot politically with several million small taxpayers.

That's why Sherman Adams is working the long-distance phone
over time to try to switch votes in Congress.

FRIENDSHIP VS. POLITICS
During the first weeks of Eisenhower's term in 1953, he enjoyed excellent personal relations with Sam Rayburn, at that time demoted
in favor of Joe Martin as Speaker of the House. But one day, when the Eisenhower budget went to Congress, Ike went out of his way
to slap Democratic failure to balance the budget.

Whereupon, Rayburn made one of his infrequent speeches. He took off the gloves and blasted Eisenhower for sending that kind of critical message. And he dared Eisenhower to balance the budget
— which so far has not been done.
That afternoon, Rayburn got a

call from the White House asking him to breakfast next morning with the President. Eisenhower opened
the breakfast by saying:

"Sam, I thought you were a friend of mine."

Rayburn replied that he was;
but that in the American system
of government, loyalty to your party was more important than friendship, and he was not going to let the Democratic party be unfairly criticized.

COUNTRY VS. POLITICS

Two years passed. When Eisenhower prepared to send his Formosa message to Congress, Speaker
Rayburn conferred with ex-
Speaker Joe Martin and both decided Ike didn't need any special authority from Congress to take action in the Formosan crisis. So Martin got the President on the phone. Both he and Rayburn, in a three-way conversation, told Eisenhower that the special resolution
was not necessary; that he already had all necessary authority.

Ike appeared to agree. After the conversation, Rayburn went back to his own office and told a group
of Democrats that the presidential message was off; Ike would not send it.

However, the President sent it just the same. And after it was sent, Rayburn jammed it through the House in record time. He worked
just as hard as if the message
had come from a Democratic President. For the prestige of the nation was at stake and Sam put
the nation ahead of politics.

Three weeks later, when the reciprocal trade bill was at stake, Rayburn stepped down from the rostrum and personally urged the bill's passage. His personality, his prestige swung many wavering
votes, won a victory for Eisenhower.

Again the nation's prestige in international relations was at stake.
But taxes is purely a domestic matter. So "Mr. Sam" is frankly and personally quite peeved at Eisenhower for now accusing his leadership of playing politics. He's not, only peeved, but he's in the fight to the bitter end.

CAPITAL NEWS CAPSULES
Good-Will Nixon — Vice President Nixon, whom I have frequently criticized, is doing a terrific job
on his good-will tour of the Caribbean. Everywhere Nixon has gone
he has handled himself like a veteran diplomat. Mrs. Nixon is also doing a bang-up job, visiting
hospitals, orphanages, and schools.
(Some Democrats say it would be a good idea to keep the Nixons traveling all the time.)

Penny-wise, Pound-foolish —
Deputy Budget Director Percival
Brundage suddenly has pounced on
the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for selling surplus federal hospitals and schools
built in wartime by Uncle Sam to cities and states that need them
desperately. Brundage claims the new department charges too little.
He wants to squeeze every dollar
he can out of these buildings by selling to the highest bidder — in which case they would probably be torn down and sold as scrap instead of continuing to serve a vital community service. HEW and the General Services Administration
are fighting back hard, but the cost-conscious Budget Bureau
seems to be winning.

Unsafe Files — Despite all the worry over government secrets and
security, it's just been discovered
that the government's top-secret
filing cabinets are so flimsy they can be broken open within five to ten minutes. Alarmed GSA officials have put out bids for better
filing cabinets — but the best one
built can withstand a safe-cracker
for only 19 minutes.

Workers 72 Years of Age Or Over May Receive Social Security Without Retiring

More part-time or seasonal work
will now be possible for beneficiaries of the old-age and survivors
insurance system without loss of their social security payments, according to E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Harrisburg Social Security office. New provisions of the law, now effective, permit beneficiaries under age 72 to supplement their benefits with earnings
from employment. There are no longer earnings restrictions on beneficiaries over age 72.

A person under age 72 can now earn $1200 a year without losing any of his benefit checks. The previous limit was $75 a month for wage earners and $900 a year for self-employed persons, there being
a separate test for wage earners
and the self-employed. The new provision puts both wage earners
and self-employed on an annual basis. Suspension of benefits is determined on the basis of total earnings from all remunerative employment or self-employment, even if the work is not covered by social security. If a beneficiary earns more than $1200 in a year, one month's benefit will ordinarily be withheld for each $80 (or part of that amount) in excess of $1200,
except that no benefit will be with-
held for a month in which neither $80 in wages was earned nor substantial self-employment services
were rendered in a trade or business, Mr. Hill stated.

As a consequence of this new provision in the law, a beneficiary
may work all year for $100 a month
and still receive all his benefit payments. If he works throughout the year for $110 a month, he will lose two months' payments. Under the former rules, he could have received no benefit payments in either of these situations if he was working for wages; or if he was
self-employed, he would have lost
four months' benefits in the first situation and six in the latter.

The new law gives wage earners
the advantage of the annual rather than the monthly test. It also helps the self-employed by raising the limitation from $900 to $1200.

The new provision has particular advantages for beneficiaries who have seasonal employment opportunities. Previously they lost benefit payments for any month in which their earnings exceeded $75.
Now, high monthly earnings in a
seasonal industry will require no

suspension of payments unless the yearly total exceeds $1200. Beneficiaries should be aware, however,
that earnings in excess of $1200
may cause suspension of benefit payments at the rate of one month's benefit for each $80 (or part of that amount) over $1200. A beneficiary who has earned $300 a month for four months, for example, will lose
no benefits. However, if he works
an additional month and earns $300, his benefits will be withheld
for four months.

Benefits will not be suspended
for any month after a person attains age 72, regardless of the amount of earnings. In the year
the beneficiary reaches age 72,
however, benefit checks for months
prior to his birthday may be withheld if the annual earnings (including earnings after age 72) are over $1200.

Beneficiaries are expected to notify the Social Security Administration, on a form which has been provided, if they believe their earnings in 1955 will exceed $1200.
Payments will then be stopped
while they are working. At the end of the year, an adjustment will be made if, based on the annual
earnings and the number of months
worked, an incorrect number of payments have been withheld. Mr.
Hill stated.

Mrs. J. A. Bottomley was hostess
to Chapter Z. P. E. O., at its regular meeting held at her home, 111

ham, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Lloyd L. Parker.

Following formalities and the transaction of business, Mrs. Robert L. Metcalf, program chairman, presented Mrs. Richard Parker who talked on "The Magic in Interior Decoration." It was bringer out that the key word in the magic of interior decoration is color and illustrations were used
to show its importance as well as
the proper and improper use of color and materials. Mrs. Parker
gave old and new views on the subject and presented interesting
sketches from "Creative Home Decorating." In conclusion, she stated that "Homes as well as people are judged by what they have
in them."

Mrs. John Cape talked on the "Magical Quality of Faith." She began by quoting the Bible, "Faith
is the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen." Stating that it is the motivating power of all progress. Scripture was read to illustrate the faith of Biblical characters. Illustrations were also given of how
men of history have attained their goals through faith, and how faith
applies to the individual. Mrs.
Cape concluded her talk by reading from the P. E. O. Record a poem entitled, "I Shall Have Faith."

Refreshments were served by
the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Met-

In Memoriam
In memory of my son, Henry Farmer, who passed away two years ago today, March 3.
No one knows how much we miss you.

No one knows the bitter pain we have suffered since we lost you. Life will never be the same. In our hearts your memory lingers. Sweetly tender, fond and true. There is not a day dear Henry, that we do not think of you. Gone dear loved one, gone forever. How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember. None on earth can take your place.

More and more each day we miss you. Friends may think the wound is healed. But the little know the sorrow. That lies within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by mother, Grace Farmer, and brothers and sisters. *208-1

Expect Increase In Chicago-Gary Area Employment

CHICAGO (UP)—Employment in the Chicago-Calumet-Gary area is expected to step up this spring, according to the Illinois Department of Labor.

State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins said in a periodic report that "a significant upswing" is expected from late this month through June.

"The present optimistic outlook contrasts strongly with the pessimistic view generally held by employers during the same period last year," Cummins said.

His report said that he expects "sizeable" hirings in radio-television, iron and steel, transportation equipment and fabricated metal industries in the area.

Construction, finance, insurance, real estate and service business also are expected to do more hiring, Cummins said. A decline in meat packing employment is expected, he said, because of the season and because of the industry's decentralization program.

Draft Eisenhower Move Going Strong for 1956 Presidential Race

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—The draft Eisenhower movement is moving along nicely today but its operators are something considerably less than contented.

Some of them are fearful that even if the President runs and wins again in 1956, he may not bring a Republican Congress back to Washington. They call Mr. Eisenhower by far the strongest candidate the Republican party could nominate.

There seems to be no doubt talk in the confidence expressed by many Republicans here that the President could defeat any Democratic presidential nominee presently in sight. That includes, of course, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic nominee, and the numerous field.

Television Appeal Counts
There is no doubt whatsoever that Mr. Eisenhower will be nominated unless he takes himself out of the contest in words of one syllable. Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall touched on the party anxiety Tuesday in a talk before an assembly of Republican women leaders. His remarks boiled down to this: The GOP must come up with better congressional candidates capable of modern television campaigning if they are to oust Democrats from congressional control.

It has appeared here for some time that Hall was convinced Mr. Eisenhower would run again. The chairman has been devoting his own political skill to the problem of returning a Republican Congress. The President scored a recent news conference suggestion that his preference for a late national nominating convention and a short campaign was a solid hint that he would be the party's 1956 candidate.

"Bosh," said the President. But it will take more than bosh to conceal the facts of Republican strategy. A late convention and a short campaign are tailored to measure for a renominated president.

President "Best Advertised"
After four years in the White House, a president is the best advertised man in the nation. He has a guaranteed attentive TV, radio and newspaper audience. A new man needs an earlier convention and a longer campaign to put across to the voters his charm, personality, policies and vote appeal. Those are the facts and they were well established by Franklin D. Roosevelt who always sought a short campaign as his stature in the nation grew and his Republican opponents sent relatively unknown opponents at him.

When Hall proposed and Mr. Eisenhower agreed to the late convention and short campaign, they either were aware of those facts or they were unbelievably ignorant of some of the fundamentals of presidential politics, which isn't likely.

The forces that brought about Mr. Eisenhower's nomination in 1952 are moving again. Examples: The plug by New York Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morehouse for 1956 renomination of the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. Former Speaker Joseph W. Martin's repeated endorsement of Eisenhower for '56.

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, is a mere lawyer now, but he is also a smart politician. Dewey has been at the White House telling the President face to face that it is up to him to head the party ticket again in 1956.

Churchill Reveals He Was Near Death By Stroke in 1953

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill disclosed in Commons for the first time Wednesday night how close he was to death in 1953.

"I was struck down by a very sudden illness which paralyzed me completely physically," he said.

Churchill made the statement in explaining why he could not meet with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov and President Eisenhower soon after Malenkov took power. His illness was one reason, the opposition of Mr. Eisenhower the other.

His statement confirmed speculation at the time he may have suffered a stroke, but the nature of the illness which forced postponement of the Bermuda Conference was kept secret.

Radar Installations Planned if State Speed Limit Passed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Radar installations will be set up along all important highways in Illinois if a speed limit law is passed by the state legislature, Director Joseph D. Bibb of the Department of Public Safety disclosed today.

"Through a series of conferences with Governor William G. Stratton, it has been decided that the tremendous psychological effect of electronic speed measuring devices will be an invaluable factor in our crusade against death and destruction on the highways," he said.

"The machines will also facilitate law enforcement, since the speed of each approaching vehicle is plotted graphically, producing evidence admissible in court," Bibb declared.

Bibb said that the location of the radar devices and the number necessary will be determined by an extensive survey of traffic thru-out the state.

State highway police have been successfully using radar to apprehend speeders on the Edens Expressway in Cook county since last June. The additional devices will also be operated by state police.

Identify Fourth Plane Victim

YORKVILLE, Ill.—State police today identified the fourth victim of an airplane crash as Eugene N. Sather of Osakis, Minn.

The wreckage with the four bodies was found Wednesday one mile east of here after an extensive search in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois since Sunday.

The four victims were Air Force trainees at Chanute Field, Ill., who rented a plane for a weekend trip to St. Cloud, Minn.

Previously identified were Wayne E. Studer and Bernard C. Vandre, St. Cloud, Minn., and Cyril Manfull, Pacoima, Calif. Studer was the pilot of the Piper Tri-Pacer rented at Decatur, Ill.

Six Killed in Chicago Area Traffic Accidents

CHICAGO (AP)—Six persons were killed in suburban traffic accidents Wednesday.

Three of the victims—all women—died when they were thrown from a car in a collision north of Wheaton, Ill.

They were identified as Mrs. Bruce L. Broadwell, 62, Clarendon Hills, Ill.; Mrs. Anna Karel, 41, Clarendon Hills, and Mrs. Irene Grady, 52, Milwaukee, Wis.

The women were passengers in an automobile driven by Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, who was hospitalized with severe injuries at Elmhurst, Ill.

The driver of the other car, 52-year-old Edward Schramer, Roselle, Ill., a DuPage County Highway Department foreman, suffered minor injuries.

Both Mrs. Wilkins and Schramer were charged with involuntary manslaughter by DuPage County deputy sheriffs. They will appear at a March 17 hearing in West Chicago police court.

Killed in separate accidents were Mrs. Billie Burkhardt, 45, Westmont, Ill.; Leonard Marquardt, 29, Chicago, and Oli Hansen, 57, Highland, Ind.

U. S. Proposes Abolition of UN Group in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today urged abolition of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission which checks to determine whether Korean armistice terms are violated.

The United States said Communist obstruction has made the group's work impossible. The four-nation group includes Switzerland and Sweden, non-Communist nations, and Poland and Czechoslovakia, Russian satellites.

Reports have been received repeatedly that the Communists in North Korea have violated the armistice and have been building up their armed forces notably by bringing in jet fighter planes.

Switzerland and Sweden have recommended that the commission be abolished or its activities and personnel reduced.

Bull Dogs, Eagles Win Regional Tilts

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois
Thursday, March 3, 1955 Page Seven

HIGHEST PRICE ANYWHERE is Harrisburg's Don Price (5), shown in action at last night's regional tournament contest with Carmi, as he rose up out of a swarm of Carmi eagles to sink this jump shot for two of his 19-point total. Price's 19 points and his fine floor game, coupled with Dave Anglin's 18 tallies and rebounding and Dave Harrison's hot-shooting spree in the third quarter, carried the brunt of the Harrisburg attack as the Bull Dogs played one of their better games to go into the tournament semifinals. ## Pinckneyville, Mt. Vernon Among Favorites to Win Regional Tourney Games

SPRINGFIELD — The upset bug kept himself scarce today as top-seeded favorites continued to win with ease in regional tournament competition on Illinois prep basketball courts.

Pinckneyville, Alton, Decatur, Mount Vernon and East St. Louis were among the teams that swept aside foes Wednesday night. Ninety-five games cut the number of surviving teams to 215.

First-round play was completed in 35 tournaments. In the other 25 regionals, the first semi-final game was played. All 60 will be the scene of semi-final action tonight.

Pinckneyville disposed of Du Quoin at Campbell Hill, 54-38, to move into the regional finals Friday night. Alton won a final berth at Collinsville by beating Wood River 74-68.

Mount Vernon, the defending state champion, easily ousted Albion from the Fairfield meet 62-34. It was only the third time in 23 games that the Edwards county team had lost.

Mounds Douglass Wins

Decatur, co-champion of the Big 12 conference, defeated Warrensburg-Latham 62-51. The victory gave Decatur a berth in the finals against either Decatur Lakeview or Cerro Gordo.

East St. Louis and district tidist O'Fallon took first-round games at Belleville. The Flyers routed Assumption 82-47 and O'Fallon nipped Belleville 59-56.

High-scoring by individual players featured two southern Illinois tournaments. Warren Fiser tallied 40 points for Mounds but his team lost 99-80 to Mounds Douglass at Anna. Don Dingworth scored 37 for Okaville which nevertheless lost 86-66 to Salem at Centralia.

At Kankakee, Rich Township of Park Forest registered its 21st win in 23 games by tripping Peotone 74-52. It was Peotone's third loss

Hemric Beats Selvy Record

NEW YORK — Dick Hemric of Wake Forest has scored more points than any college basketball player in history, but this season's scoring championship belongs to Darrell Floyd of Furman.

The Golden Gophers, beaten by Iowa Monday in their bid for their first conference title since 1919, still dominated the all conference club with two first team selections.

Senior guard Chuck Mencil also made the five-man club and strangely he missed being a unanimous selection by the narrowest of margins. Nine of the coaches placed Mencil on the first all conference team and the tenth listed him on the second five.

Ehmann, Schlundt and Judson

The rest of the all conference team included forward Frank Ehmann, Northwestern, center Don Schlundt, Indiana, on the team for the third straight year, and guard Paul Judson, Illinois. Judson was a junior, the other four seniors.

It was the second time Mencil has made the all conference team. He gained a first team berth in 1953, and was on the second team in both 1952 and 1954. Schlundt earned honorable mention in 1952. Both Mencil and Schlundt competed as freshmen and this year completed four years of eligibility.

Garmaker and Ehmann also made the second all conference team last season.

Garmaker has been a standout throughout the season, never running worse than third in the Big Ten scoring race. His average of 25.3 points per game today was best in the league, narrowly ahead of Ehmann and Schlundt. All have

Will Play Tonight in Semifinal; Carrier Mills vs. Shawneetown

Harrisburg and Eldorado meet for the fourth time this season in basketball tonight after winning victories last night in opening round games of the Norris City regional tournament.

The contest will begin at 8:30 p. m., following another "natural" at 7 p. m. between Carrier Mills and unbeaten Shawneetown. These two teams won their openers Tuesday evening.

Last night Harrisburg beat Carmi, 71 to 53, and Eldorado eliminated Mills-Prairie, the Crossville district winner, 85 to 48.

In previous encounters this year, Harrisburg won the first game from Eldorado and Eldorado came back to take the second. Then Harrisburg beat the Eagles in the finals of the Saline county tournament to give the Bull Dogs a 2-1 edge.

Bull Dogs Shoot .500

Carrier Mills and Shawneetown met once during the season, the Wildcats losing to the Indians from Gallatin county.

The Bull Dogs of Harrisburg and the Bull Dogs of Carmi tangled in the opener of last night's session and the Saline county Bull Dogs bit the hardest.

With Don Price and the two Davids, Harrison and Anglin, hitting well, the locals took a lead near the end of the first quarter that they never relinquished. A Carmi press, which was put on a lot of the time last half, did not bother Coach Gene Bland's boys.

Harrisburg had a definite height advantage over Carmi and used it to a better advantage on defense than on offense. Carmi had some good shots and the local defense was pretty good in holding it in check.

But with Anglin hitting from the side, Harrison from out in front and Price connecting on drive-ins, the locals shot a most excellent .500 from the field, making 24 of 48 attempts compared with Carmi's .306 from 18 out of 49.

Harrisburg led 14-10 at the quarter.

Logan's sixth grade team and McKinley's fifth grade outfit advanced into the championship rounds of their respective brackets in the Harrisburg grade school tournament being played at the Junior High gym.

Logan beat Horace Mann 35-24 and McKinley defeated Dorrisville 18-13.

Other semifinal games are scheduled for this afternoon. Logan and Bavis meet in a fifth grade game and McKinley and Dorrisville are paired in sixth grade competition. Championship games will be played Monday afternoon. They were originally listed for Friday, but postponed until Monday.

Gophers' Garmaker Only Unanimous Choice As Coaches Name All-Big 10

CHICAGO — Minnesota's All American forward, Dick Garmaker, was the only unanimous choice on the 1955 All Big Ten basketball team picked by conference coaches today for United Press.

The Golden Gophers, beaten by Iowa Monday in their bid for their first conference title since 1919, still dominated the all conference club with two first team selections.

Senior guard Chuck Mencil also made the five-man club and strangely he missed being a unanimous selection by the narrowest of margins. Nine of the coaches placed Mencil on the first all conference team and the tenth listed him on the second five.

It was the second time Mencil has made the all conference team. He gained a first team berth in 1953, and was on the second team in both 1952 and 1954. Schlundt earned honorable mention in 1952. Both Mencil and Schlundt competed as freshmen and this year completed four years of eligibility.

Garmaker and Ehmann also made the second all conference team last season.

Garmaker has been a standout throughout the season, never running worse than third in the Big Ten scoring race. His average of 25.3 points per game today was best in the league, narrowly ahead of Ehmann and Schlundt. All have

Manager Lopez Assures Bob Feller He Still Figures in Indians' Plans

Take it from Manager Al Lopez — Cleveland's collection of brilliant young pitching talent hasn't crowded Bob Feller out of the Indians' plans this year.

The 36-year-old Feller checked in at Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday to begin his 17th spring training season with the Indians and immediately was assured by Lopez that he figures prominently in the club's plans.

Feller's status has become doubtful because of Lopez' hopes of working Ray Narleski and Don Mossi in addition to rookie Herb Score into the Indians' plans.

"I told Bob I expected to use him as often as I did last season," Lopez explained. "He's still got a lot of good pitching left in him."

Feller, who broke in with the Indians in 1936, appeared in 19 games last season and compiled a fine 13-3 won-and-lost record in addition to a 3.09 earned run average.

At Phoenix, Ariz., meanwhile, Manager Leo Durocher tabbed Jim Hearn as the "potential big man" of the New York Giants' pitching staff this year and accepted part of the blame for the big right-hander's dismal 8-8 showing in 1954. Durocher had a heart-to-heart talk with Hearn and then turned him over to Coach Frank Shellenback with the prediction that Jim would be a new man in '55.

Cass Michaels Collapses

The Chicago White Sox suffered a disheartening blow at Tampa, Fla., when infielder Cass Michaels collapsed after a workout and was removed to Tampa Municipal Hospital. Michaels suffered a double skull fracture when beamed by Marion Fricano last Aug. 27. It was feared his career may be ended.

Reports that the Washington Senators were preparing to trade holdout first baseman Mickey Vernon and third baseman Eddie Yost were ridiculed by Clark Griffith, the club's 85-year-old owner. Griffith said he never had traded such a provision.

Limestone Lem Says: "MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES"

You know, Calcium Cal, me and my ole lady, Magnesium Mag was a readin' the Scriptures the other night about Joseph's awarin' the Egyptians to prepare for unfavorable years. As I see it, that's mighty good advice to use right now, especially in a farmin' operation.

Raise more on fewer acres or raise more on all the acres you farm by using plenty of LIMESTONE on your farm. LIMESTONE has hidden values, which are not recognized by all. LIMESTONE, not only sweetens the soil, adds calcium, but makes it possible to raise legumes which add tilt to the soil.

According to results from the University of Illinois Brownstown Experimental Field, this is clearly demonstrated. On the area of the field, which has been limed since 1940, and where clovers were plowed under, the corn yield, with LIMESTONE, potash, phosphate and nitrogen, was 97 bushels per acre. On a new area, without legumes, but with the same amount of LIMESTONE, potash, phosphate and nitrogen, the yield was 42 bushels per acre. LIMESTONE and LEGUMES are the farmer's greatest guarantee against crop failures, especially in bad years. Don't forget to satisfy your LIMESTONE requirement first. Let: Ewel Harris, Galatia, Ill., Ralph Carpenter, Eldorado, Ill., supply COLUMBIA 2200 LIMESTONE, which will insure your future.

Gola is Voted United Press Player of Year

NEW YORK — All-America Tom Gola of La Salle, basketball's master craftsman who has been lauded by many as the outstanding college star of all time, today was voted the United Press player of the year for 1955 — almost by acclamation.

The 21-year-old son of a Philadelphia policeman was an overwhelming choice of 276 sportswriters and radio broadcasters who participated in the United Press All-America poll. Gola was the top choice of 169 voters, a remarkably high total considering the wide-open aspects of the ballot.

Gola's closest rival for the honor was Bill Russell, San Francisco's All-America center who polled 46 votes. Of the 27 other players who received votes, none attracted more than seven.

After Russell in the voting came Robin Freeman of Ohio State with seven votes and Dick Hemric of Wake Forest with six. Don Schlundt of Indiana, Darrell Floyd of Furman, and All-America Dick Garmaker of Minnesota each had four.

Ron Shavlik of North Carolina State, All-America Dick Ricketts of Duquesne, Buzz Wilkinson of Virginia, Maurice Sokes of St. Francis, Pa., and Jack Twyman of Cincinnati each attracted three votes.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Rose funeral home in Cave-in-Rock for Victoria Lynn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oxford of Cave-in-Rock. Burial was in the Rutherford cemetery near Cave-in-Rock.

The baby was born prematurely Feb. 15 and died Sunday morning at 3 a. m. in the Harrisburg hospital.

Crash Lands in

Iceland; All Escape

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UP) — A military transport C118 crash landed and burst into flames today but all 48 passengers and nine crewmen aboard escaped.

Only three sustained minor injuries in jumping from the wreck.

THE STORY: Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg, attempting to make a few dollars bill collecting, get a "goose bank" filled with $6.38 in small change in payment on a fur coat from Alice Cummings, former chorus girl. Alice had paid part in cash, but she had been anxious to get rid of Fletcher and Cragg before her boy friend, the wealthy Jess Carmichael III, was calling.

Johnny skimmed over a few pages. "Here're the dimes. Mmm, they seem to run about the same, maybe a little less even. Oh-oh, here's an exception, 1894-S—up to $2400."

"We got one of those, Johnny?"

"I hardly think so. It says here that only 24 were made."

"Take a look, I'm all goose pimples," Sam blinked, then chuckled. "Goose pimples — from a goose bank."

"Here," said Johnny, "we'll copy all this down about the dimes and the pennies. You got a pencil?"

"You know I never carry one. I haven't got anybody to write to."

Johnny looked across the table. "Excuse me, but do you have a pencil I could borrow?"

"If it'll keep you quiet, here's a fountain pen," exclaimed the elderly reader.

"Thank you. You don't happen to have a couple of sheets of paper on you, do you?"

The reader groaned. "Here—here's a notebook, tear out some pages. Now, write please, and keep quiet awhile."

Johnny scribbled furiously, then returned the fountain pen and gathered up his sheets. "This'll do it. Good-by, sir, and thank you for the use of the pen and the paper."

Two chairs away, a heavy-set man with thick glasses slammed back his chair. "There's too much noise around here!"

Johnny put his finger to his lips. "Shhh! It's against the rules to yell in the library."

They walked down Forty-second Street. Passing the newsstand, Johnny's eyes went to the papers. A groan was forced from him. Johnny handed the news vendor a nickel. Then he opened the paper and exposed the headline to Sam.

JESS CARMICHAEL III FOUND SLAIN IN FIFTH AVENUE APARTMENT

"Holy cow!" gasped Sam Cragg. "That's the joint we were at this afternoon."

Johnny continued to read the article. Finally he lowered the paper. "Something tells me that we're going to be in trouble."

"We didn't do it," cried Sam.

"We know we didn't, but will the police know? Look, it says here: 'The beautiful former showgirl gave police the names of two men who called on her a short time previously and threatened her with bodily injury.' That's us, Sam."

"There's the subway," Sam said. "We got those dimes. We can be over in New Jersey in a half hour."

"If the police want us badly enough, they'll get us in Canada."

"Johnny," cried Sam in sudden panic, "you ain't going to play detective again, are you?"

"Who, me?" asked Johnny innocently.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—Next year's April primary (unless it is changed to June by the current General Assembly) is beginning to shape up. Signs are the hiring of key men, one of them former State Treasurer Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, by two state officers for executive posts from where they may help in their primary campaign.

State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, hired Hoffman, a powerful votegetter in his own right, to head the property control division in the Auditor's office at an annual salary of $7,200. In 1952 Hoffman led all candidates for state offices. His total vote was 2,366,170 which was 47,087 ahead of Gov. William Stratton. Closest to him was Hodge who had 2,336,424.

The other state officer who has added a professional politician and businessman to his staff is State Treasurer Warren Wright, Park Ridge. He has named John E. Hall, Sterling, city chairman of the Whiteside County Republican committee, his chief clerk at a salary said to be $8,000 a year. He formerly was with a newspaper and more recently was a field investigator for the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Hoffman is believed to be grooming himself for the Republican nomination for state treasurer next year but would also be in Hodge's camp for the latter's reelection or for a possible gubernatorial nomination about which there is some talk. Hodge admittedly aspires to be Governor of Illinois but only when Stratton is not a candidate. But politics are funny.

State Treasurer Warren Wright, Park Ridge, is ineligible for a second consecutive term so no doubt will be looking around for another place on the 1956 state ticket. He is mentioned more often for secretary of state but inasmuch as beating an incumbent for that nomination it might be he will look toward the possibilities of another office, such as governor.

Hodge's move in acquiring Hoffman is interesting in that the treasurer apparently chose to go with the auditor in preference to a place as a top flight investigator with Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, Sandwich. Hoffman also reportedly could have had a $10,000 job with Stratton as chairman of the Illinois State Youth Commission, or in a finance capacity.

Neither Governor Stratton nor Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, E. Moline, have as yet given definite indication what their 1956 plans are but it is almost a certainty that each will seek re-nomination for the office he holds. Atty. Gen. Castle and State Supreme Court Clerk Earle Benjamin Searcy, Springfield, also are expected to be candidates for re-nomination.

So far U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Pekin, has no opposition for Republican renomination. He has been busy mending political fences but he always was an active campaigner. He apparently intends to do a "redo" of 1950 when he campaigned ardently for months to stage a surprise victory over Democrat Incumbent Scott W. Lucas, Havana, at the time majority leader of the U. S. Senate.

Democrats thus far, are showing little activity for next year. Former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and Stephen Mitchell, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, have been listed as possibilities for the U. S. Senator and Governor, respectively, but downstate party highrups don't take it too seriously. Democrats may get going after the Chicago Mayoralty election next month.

Ronnie Doerge to Address Southern Illinois Art League

Ronnie Doerge, operator of Ronnie's Studio, has been invited to be program speaker at the 70th semi-annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Art League at Casey, Ill., March 7. Willard C. STATE REP. W. O. VERHINES, VIENNA REPUBLICAN, on the job at his desk in the Illinois House of Representatives. Now serving his fourth two-year term, the member from the 51st Senatorial District (Johnson, Hamilton, Massac, Pope and Saline counties) prides himself most on supporting legislation to give townships and road districts a share in the state gasoline gallonage gas tax. He said it "wasn't too much but it's a start and I'll try for more." He was a foe of reapportionment in 1953, supported bills to rehabilitate drainage district ditches and channels in his district and helped pass a bill to assist war veterans looking for homes.

KNOW YOUR LEGISLATOR:

Rep. W. O. Verhines, in Fourth Term, Fights for Tax Funds for Townships, Roads

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—An ambition to see that road districts and townships get a share of the State Gasoline Gallonage tax is responsible for State Rep. W. O. Verhines' (Vienna Republican) presence in the House of the Illinois General Assembly. He says it was the chief inducement for him to seek the office for the first time in 1942.

Verhines who hails from the same town as Rep. Paul Powell, outstanding Democrat of the House, was assistant county treasurer of Johnson county in 1942 when he felt townships and road districts weren't getting a fair break on the division of the gas tax. So he decided to do something about it. Result was he ran and was elected to the House.

The Vienna Republican is serving his fourth term as a state representative. He was unsuccessful in 1944 but won in 1946. He tried for state senator from the 51st district (Johnson, Hamilton, Massac, Pope and Saline counties) in 1950 and lost. He was elected to the House in 1952 and 1954. Verhines says he plans to continue to fight for a bigger share of the gas tax for townships and road districts.

Now 62, Verhines gets his legislative "licks" in at committee hearings rather than on the House floor. He doesn't boast about what he has done in getting a share of the gasoline tax for the small areas but says "it's something and I can always try for more." With Powell he was a strong foe of reapportionment because he feels "it's a surrender to a small group of Chicago politicians."

Verhines says another ambition is to "continue to live in southern Illinois, see that that section of the state properly shares in the benefits of the state and to try to restore the rights of the people." His favorite recreation is playing pinocle in family games. Verhines is retired. He is a veteran of World War I and has been a farmer, an educator and a construction contractor.

Legislation he has sponsored includes appropriations for rehabilitation and clearing of ditches and channels in the Cache River (Massac county), Bay Bottoms (Pope), Black Bottoms (Saline and Hamilton) and the Vienna (Johnson) drainage districts. In 1953 he sponsored a bill appropriating $250,000 to provide housing assistance to war veterans. It was passed and signed into law by Gov. William G. Stratton.

County Association For Mentally Retarded Children Meets

The Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children met Tuesday evening at the Dorrisville grade school.

The president, Mrs. Aaron Dudley, presided over the meeting during which she read a letter from Mrs. Harold Reiser, membership chairman of the national association from St. Louis, Mo., stating that a new group which included 163 members had been formed in Illinois and had applied for membership into the national association.

Mrs. Geneva Mitchell, treasurer, then read letters from Sen. Glen O. Jones and Rep. Paul Powell, telling of their vital interest in the House Bill No. 339, which includes trainable handicapped children in the school code of Illinois.

The group decided to have a work table built to donate to the E. M. H. room at the Horace Mann school where Mrs. Fred Mannet is teacher.

Highway Death Toll Unchanged During January

CHICAGO (AP)—The national highway death toll was unchanged in January from the same period last year, according to the National Safety Council.

The council said that the total for both months was 2,900. The record could have been better if motorists stayed in the cities, it said. Deaths were 7 per cent lower in the cities during January and 7 per cent higher in rural areas.

Among major cities, Los Angeles led with 2.9 deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles. Chicago got second with 3.4 and Detroit third with 3.9.

To keep a mixed green salad crisp, place a saucer upside down in the bowl before filling with salad. Moisture from the dressing will flow underneath, leaving the salad fresh and crisp.

There's a new synthetic ironing board that won't get wet, even if you're using a steaming iron. It fits smoothly with a draw-string to any normal board, can be wiped off to clean.

Tips on

Traffic

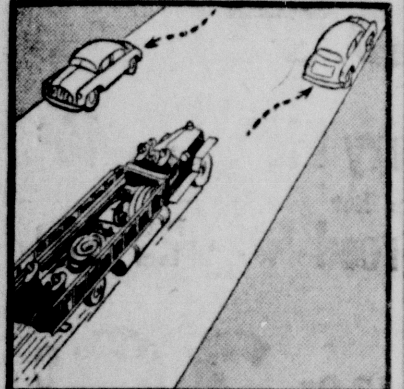

Safety

By

CHARLES F. CARPENTIER

Secretary of State

In most of your everyday driving, you do not encounter emergency vehicles, but at any moment, on city street or open highway, you may suddenly hear the siren or see the flashing red light of a fire department truck, a police squad car or an ambulance. Lack of familiarity with this type of situation may find you at loss as to just what to do, so it is well to remind yourself every now and then of your duties under those circumstances. Illinois law requires that you "shall yield the right-of-way and shall immediately drive to a position parallel to, and as close as possible to, the right-hand edge or curb of the highway clear of any intersection and shall stop and remain in such position until the authorized emergency vehicle has passed, except when otherwise directed by a police officer." (Section 72, a Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

The driver of an emergency vehicle has an extremely hazardous occupation. Failure on your part to grant him the right-of-way could cost him his life, and he is always faced with the possibility that some driver will fail to get out of his way. At the same time, he is duty bound to get to the scene of the emergency as fast as possible.

Remember what you are supposed to do under those conditions. Get out of his way. He might be going to your house.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Name Teen-Age Winners in Science Contest

WASHINGTON (AP)—A physicist-mathematician-chemist from Pennsylvania and a brown-eyed girl biologist from Wisconsin were top teenage winners in the 14th annual science talent search.

Frederick P. Greenleaf, 17-year-old from Allentown, Pa., who not only plays a mean game of tennis but can build a neat radar set as well, won the top $2,800 scholarship prize awarded by Westinghouse at a banquet Monday night.

He plans one day to set up his own business along the lines of the project that helped him win the grand prize over 40 other contestants—separation of mixtures of metals by distillation.

It's a process, he said, which would be "widely useful in diverse fields from refining operations to atomic energy production."

Kathleen Hable from Loyol, Wis., walked off with the second prize of a $2,000 scholarship. Vaughan A. Aandahl of Denver, Colo., was her runner-up and one of eight finalists who won $400 science scholarships.

The others included James E. Potter, 17, Rockford, Ill.

Kathleen, 18, has been too busy to take biology in school. But her project showing how color in mice is handed down from one generation to the next and mutations of fruit flies turned the trick for her at the institute. She plans to be a nurse.

Four Elected to Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange Board

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Four men were elected to three-year terms on the board of the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange Tuesday.

They were Harvey Hartline, Carbondale; E. D. McGuire, Makanda; L. A. Floyd, Greenville; and Roy Weineke, Hardin.

The exchange held its annual meeting at Carbondale where it has offices, a cold storage plant, loading docks and orchard supply facilities.

Curt Eckert, Belleville, president of the exchange, reported that 1954 showed an upturn in business and operations over the two previous years in spite of adverse fruit growing conditions in southern Illinois.

Kroger Employees Have $14.7 Million In Savings Plan

Employees of the Kroger Co. now have a total of more than $14,749,840 to their credit under the Kroger Employees' Savings and Profit Sharing plan, H. L. Lindsay, Carbondale branch manager for the retail food firm, announced today. The plan was begun in January, 1951.

Under the plan a part of company profits is credited to the accounts of employees in proportion to the amount each has saved during the year.

During 1954 alone, a total of $1,347,604 from company profits, plus credits of $490,709 given by members who have left the plan, was credited to employees' accounts, Lindsay pointed out. This is equal to 57 cents on each dollar saved by employees. Their savings totaled $3,190,875 during the past year. An additional $714,747 was credited during 1954 to employees' accounts representing earnings and increases in value of the funds during the year.

More than $34,759 of the company's contribution will be credited to accounts of employees in the Carbondale area. This includes employees of the branch's 67 retail stores as well as the branch office and warehouse in Carbondale.

Funds contributed to the plan from company profits have been invested in 24,100 shares of Kroger stock, the trustees' report to members said, as well as in the stocks and bonds of 62 other companies. In addition, the fund also now owns three Kroger stores, which are leased to the company.

Employees have saved $8,553,885 since the plan began and have received credits totaling $6,195,960 from company profits.

Number of employees in the plan has increased steadily, Lindsay said, with the total rising from 16,995 at the end of 1953 to 18,631 in 1954. About 96 per cent of eligible employees are now participating in the plan. All regular Kroger employees, 21 years of age or older who have had two or more years of continuous services with the company, may participate.

VA Lists Benefit Deadlines for Korean War Vets
A list of deadlines for Korean War veterans, if they wish certain benefits, has been issued by the Veterans Administration as a reminder. Most of them result from President Eisenhower's proclamation setting Jan. 31, 1955, as the end of the Korean conflict period governing eligibility.

The educational deadline is not, however, affected by the President's proclamation. It still remains that eligible veterans must start educational training within three years after they leave service.

Those discharged on or before Jan. 31, 1955, must finish education or training by Jan. 31, 1963, or eight years after discharge, whichever is earlier. Those discharged after Jan. 31, 1955, must finish by Jan. 31, 1965, or eight years after discharge, whichever is earlier.

For GI loans on homes, farms or businesses, eligible Korean veterans now have until Jan. 31, 1965. For vocational rehabilitation, eligible disabled Korean veterans must start in time to finish rehabilitation by Jan. 31, 1964, or nine years after separation, whichever is earlier.

In certain "hardship" categories, an additional four years is granted to complete rehabilitation.

For a $1600 grant toward an automobile, seriously disabled Korean veterans eligible must apply within three years after leaving service—and their injury must have occurred by Jan. 31, 1955.

A blizzard, technically, is a snowstorm accompanied by zero or sub-zero temperatures and by high winds.
